

Should it be renamed 'Garbage Gulch Road'?

Those who live along or those who drive the Bloody Gulch Road, just south of the Dixon city limits, think a more appropriate name for the road might be "Garbage Gulch Road."

All along the road, which stretches from Ill. 26 on the east to the Rock Island Blacktop on the west, there are unsightly piles of litter. The scenes below were taken this morning. Other pictures of beer cans and assorted litter could fill a page, but these photos are representative of the general condition of the ditches along the road.

Rusty bedsprings and a rotting mattress lie within ten feet of the roadway.

Smashed five-gallon cans and torn feed sacks litter an area just off the road in full view of passing cars.

This room-sized rug lies partially on the roadway. (Telegraph Photos)

Suit asks Rochelle recount

OREGON— Citing "electioneering and certain voting irregularities," the Rochelle Concerned Citizens for passage of a $1.6-million overpass plan have filed suit in Ogle County Circuit Court demanding a recount of the March 16 vote.

The referendum failed by a five-vote margin in a canvass conducted by the Rochelle City Council.

The suit, filed against the City of Rochelle, charges electioneering occurred at Precinct 7, including the solicitation of votes against the passage of the referendum, without which the referendum would have passed.

It also alleges three persons, known opponents of the plan, were allowed to vote in Precinct 7 after signing affidavits saying they were registered voters. It was later learned none of the three were registered.

The three remain under investigation by the Ogle County state's attorney's office and Rochelle Police and are subject to arrest if the signing of the affidavit is deemed perjury.

The recount is sought in Precincts 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7. A court order is additionally sought which would declare all "no" votes in Precinct 7 invalid based upon the irregularities reported.

The plaintiffs also claim mistakes were made in the counting of ballots resulting in 58 spoiled ballots "... when in fact they were not spoiled but rather valid ballots which should have been counted as 'yes' ballots."

The proposal sought to get voter approval on the issuance of bonds to construct a four-lane overpass across railroad tracks on U.S. 51.

The Rochelle City Council has sought a six-month delay from the Illinois Commerce Commission to allow time for court proceedings for a recount or a new election.

Named as plaintiffs in the suit are James Wolfe, John F. Beardin, George J. McIlvoy, William F. Hayes and Wayne Schrok.

No date has been set for a hearing.

Cronin urges boost in school aid to prevent teacher cuts

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — State School Supt. Joseph M. Cronin said today more than 3,500 dismissal notices have been sent to school teachers throughout the state, and that local educators "are not crying wolf" about proposed program cutbacks.

He called for the legislature to approve more than $105 million in supplemental aid to local schools this year in an effort to head off the cutbacks.

Extra-curricular activities, vocational education and other special programs are being slashed throughout the state, he said.

"These cuts are much too deep in terms of maintaining the quality we've built up over the past five or ten years," Cronin said.

in said.

Cronin called on the legislature to approve for this year an extra $67.5 million in general school aid and $38 million for special education reimbursements.

The money was vetoed from this year's budget by Gov. Daniel Walker and the General Assembly failed to override his veto. Cronin indicated he does not have Walker's support for restoring the funds.

Cronin also called for full funding next fiscal year of the formula under which state aid is distributed to schools. That formula calls for the state to bear more than 50 per cent of the cost of education.

Walker's proposed budget for fiscal 1977 provides about $1.7 billion for education, an amount he says will fund about 48 per cent of school cost.

Cronin would not say if he thinks a general state tax increase would be necessary—or desirable—to fund his proposed increases.

"This is a decision that has to be made but it's beyond the scope of my responsibilities to say where (the funds) would come from," Cronin said.

Cronin said the planned teacher cutbacks are more than twice those warranted by the expected 30,000 drop in student enrollments next year.

He said there are indications the general economy is improving and "it is ironic that the economy is turning around and yet teachers are being turned out."

"These are much deeper cuts than we've ever seen before in the recent history of Illinois schools," Cronin said.

Cronin said he had seen no indication that local schools are overreacting to the school funding crunch.

Walker's recommended education appropriation for next year is $149 million over this year, but Cronin said the state Board of Education had sought a $325 million increase.

Local educators have cited the state aid pinch, balking taxpayers and changes in local property tax assessment rates as reasons for widespread teacher dismissals and program cutbacks.

State officials said that of 39 local tax increase referendums surveyed, voters approved only 17.

But The Illinois Education Association, the state's largest teachers' union, believes dismissal notices in many areas are tied to upcoming teacher contract talks for next year.

"A lot of school boards are using this as a negotiating ploy, trying to intimidate teachers by scaring them about their jobs," said Curtis Plott, IEA executive secretary.

But Plott, whose own wife was recently fired from a teaching job in Springfield, said "there are some districts that obviously are having some financial difficulty."

Still 'far apart' as Teamster strike looms

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — Teamsters union and trucking industry negotiators remained "far apart" on crucial money issues today as the midnight deadline for a nationwide truck strike approached, federal labor officials said.

Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr. said contract negotiations were bogged down over four or five economic issues. Although he declined to elaborate, those issues reportedly include a difference of 75 cents an hour in wage increases, $6 a week in other benefits and cost-of-living allowances.

Usery and James Scaer, acting head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, planned to continue meeting with both sides today in anticipation of the midnight expiration of the National Master Freight Agreement.

The current contract covers about 400,000 truckers and warehousemen who move about 60 per cent of the nation's total output of manufactured goods.

Usery reported late Tuesday night that some progress was being made and said he felt enough time remained to fashion a settlement.

He added, however, "I am hopeful, but at this moment I certainly cannot in any way indicate ... I see an agreement. We're talking about a national agreement that has many implications not only for this industry but for the nation this year."

The Ford administration is concerned that a large settlement in favor of the Teamsters would have an inflationary impact on upcoming contract negotiations in the rubber, construction, electrical appliance and auto industries.

In weekend voting by union members across the country, Teamsters leaders received overwhelming authorization to call a strike if a settlement is not reached before the present contract expires.

Usery said Tuesday that no decision had been made to seek a Taft-Hartley injunction and invoke an 80-day cooling-off period, but federal sources said preparations to seek the necessary court order were being made in Washington.

An injunction would order resumption of work for the cooling-off period if a strike is begun, but dissident Teamsters have threatened wildcat strikes if such a back-to-work order is imposed.

The labor secretary told reporters that a cost-of-living allowance is "certainly one of the more serious issues now."

Rank-and-file Teamsters lost some 50 cents hourly in 1974-75 wages because of a cost-of-living ceiling under the existing contract, according to union officials.

A key point in the talks with Trucking Employers Inc., representing 16,000 firms as the industry's bargaining agent, has been the Teamsters' demand of no ceiling in the next contract.

On other issues, the Teamsters now want $1.75 in hourly salary increases and an additional $17 a week in pension and health-welfare benefits over three years.

TEI has based its offer on 39-month figures, proposing increased benefits of $11 a week. Sources said the employers also have raised their wage-hike offer from 85 cents to $1 an hour.

Drivers earn from $7.18 to $7.33 an hour under the existing contract.

Wallace shrugs off heckling in Madison

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "They will grow up," said George C. Wallace after hecklers wearing Arthur Bremer masks and pushing wheelchairs tried to disrupt a campaign appearance here.

Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson, like Wallace a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, was the target of similar abuse later Tuesday. "What happened to me, that doesn't matter," Jackson told reporters. "Bringing in Bremer on Wallace, that was sick."

Bremer was convicted and sentenced to 63 years in prison after attempting to assassinate Wallace during the 1972 presidential campaign. Wallace was paralyzed from the waist down and now uses a wheelchair.

In Washington, meanwhile, President Ford announced the appointment of Rogers C.B. Morton as manager of his campaign for a full term in the White House.

And former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is challenging Ford for the GOP nomination, prepared in Los Angeles for a 30-minute speech to be televised nationally this evening.

Morton, 61, is a former Republican national chairman and commerce secretary and was most recently a White House counselor. He replaces Howard H. "Bo" Callaway, who resigned from the $42,500-a-year job amid controversy.

As he quit, Callaway declared he had done nothing wrong and would be exonerated in government probes of his role in seeking expansion on federal land of a Colorado ski resort in which he owns controlling interest.

Ford said Morton would officially take over the campaign post on Friday.

Reagan taped the speech, which aides said the candidate wrote himself, in Hollywood on Tuesday. After the taping session, he chatted briefly with reporters but wouldn't talk about the speech.

The former motion picture and television actor, who won his first primary election in North Carolina last week, canceled a week of campaign appearances to prepare for the program.

"I just have been frustrated that (I am) not getting the message to enough people," Reagan said of his decision to go on national television. The Reagan campaign paid $86,000 for 30 minutes of air time on nearly 200 NBC stations at 10:30 p.m. on the East and West coasts and 9:30 p.m. in Central and Mountain time zones.

Neither Wallace nor Jackson was harmed by the hecklers. It was in Madison a week ago that former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, another Democratic candidate in Wisconsin's April 6 primary election, was sprinkled with peanuts. Carter is a peanut farmer.

Wallace appeared to ignore demonstrators, who shouted, "Wallace go home" as he arrived at a Madison restaurant for a speech. They carried placards which read: "George, stand up and be counted" and "Free Artie Bremer."

The incident prompted an apology from Gov. Patrick J.

Lucey, but Wallace said that wasn't necessary.

"The governor doesn't owe me an apology because the people here have been good to me for many years," Wallace said later in Janesville. He referred to heavy votes he got in previous Wisconsin primaries.

Later, as Jackson approached an airport fence lined with spectators, moisture struck him in the face and Secret Service personnel hustled away a young man.

"Water. Junk," Jackson remarked. His news secretary, Brian Corcoran, said it was spit.

Jackson's airport detractors shouted slogans critical of the military aircraft industry in his home state of Washington.

Studded tires illegal tomorrow

Area law enforcement officials today issued a reminder that midnight tonight is the deadline for removal of studded snow tires.

Due to a recent state law, today will be the last day the metal studs will be allowed on tires for winter driving. The studded-tire ban was due to the destructive effect the studs have on road surfaces.

As W. Europe reddens what should U.S. do?

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
France's recent cantonal elections put that country into a heavy swing to the left. While not the same as the 1973 parliamentary elections, where the government coalition won 53 seats to 47, President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing is clearly hanging on by his teeth.

The left won 56.5 per cent, against 43.5 per cent for the parties in d'Estaing's governing coalition. Obviously many Frenchmen want a government to the left and are willing to vote for it.

The trend in France could bring Communists into government coalitions for the first time since 1947.

The French Communist party draws off about four million votes. It has no dues-collecting mechanism. It doesn't need any. It is entirely financed from Moscow.

The party controls the General Confederation of Labor (CGT). Its 750,000 members make the CGT the largest trade union in France. And the CGT can always put into the streets on an hour's notice about 40,000 disciplined, chanting, iron-fisted demonstrators. The purpose is to cripple France.

The CGT concentrates its highly disciplined membership in France's indispensable industries—mining, railways, communications, the newspapers, TV and radio media, the atomic centers, etc.

Today this Moscow-directed force has President d'Estaing trapped like Superman in a bottle.

Britain, in turn, is an island beset by a rapidly expanding population requiring costly education at one end of the age scale, pensions at the other and enormous yearly expenditures on the British Labor government's welfare statism in between. The present left-wing government is an obvious danger to the American interest in non-Communist Western Europe.

In West Germany Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's survival is touch and go. He is pressed by the Social Democratic Party—which has always been far to the left.

It preaches what the Social Democrats call "codetermination." This involves subordinating shareowners to the government and to labor; control of the companies' executives, the power to hire and fire the executives, government-sponsored advisory boards, government-appointed directors, etc.

The Social Democrats' "codetermination" actually means government and labor control of West Germany's chief enterprises in a takeover at the management level without openly confiscating the property.

Why seize the cow, with all that seizure entails, when you can leave the farmer his cow and simply seize the milk?

In Italy the Communist party is the largest in the western world. Bologna has Communist mayor. Genoa (population 842,000) had Christian Democratic mayors for 24 years. Now it has a Communist mayor. The effect on Milan, Italy's second largest city, and elsewhere in Italy, is lethal.

The Italian Communist party gets nearly a third of the national vote. In the latest regional elections it won 32.4 per cent, a gain of more than 4.9 per cent over the 1972 parliamentary elections. The Christian Democrats slipped from 38.7 per cent to 35.6 per cent. And the hottest question in Italy today is whether or not to have the Communist party in the coalition government.

Seventy per cent of Italy's workers are not unionized, but the Communist party controls the powerful, militant CGIL, Italy's largest trade union federation.

This represents rule by the minority over the majority by coercion, force, repression and fear. In short, paralysis—to Moscow's glee.

The Red Star is over Italy—but the whole is the sum of its parts. France, Britain, West Germany and Italy are the power centers in the Western Europe where the United States has so much at stake. These four dominate the productivity. These four are where most of the free Europeans live.

West Germany (62 million) has the most people. Britain is next with 56 million, followed by Italy (55.5 million) and France (52.5 million). Their combined population is 226 million, about the same population of the United States.

The Communists use their traditional hammerlock technique; twist a little more, push a little more, fight a little more, lie a little more until the resistance can stand it no longer. It is the facts in the total four countries—France, Britain, West Germany, Italy—that we face. And where does that leave the United States?

Voice change

A 10-month study of the overseas informational and cultural activities of the government has been completed by a privately funded panel of distinguished citizens headed by Dr. Frank Stanton, chairman of the American Red Cross and former president of CBS.

The panel, which was organized by Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies, now conducted by the State Department and the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) be combined in an autonomous "Informational Cultural Affairs Agency" that would report directly to the secretary of state.

The best-known arm of the USIA is the Voice of America, which began its broadcasting operations 30 years ago and has occupied a tenuous position at the crossroads of journalism and diplomacy throughout the postwar era.

The panel felt it was time to review the Voice of America's future role and recommends that it be set up "in a manner reflecting its unique triple role as a disseminator of objective news, as articulator of U.S. policy and as a portrayal of American society."

At present, says the Stanton report, the USIA deals in media while the State Department deals in people. A new agency combining the functions of both would be more effective, it concludes.

Starchy solution

A British scientist claims to have found a solution to the mounting problem of "plastic pollution."

Dramatic results are obtained simply by adding starch to plastic in the manufacturing process, says Prof. G. F. L. Griffin of Brunel University. The starch permits bacteria to attack plastic discarded in landfills and garbage dumps as well as in the sea.

When buried in the ground, for example, over a period of time the plastic is converted into water, carbon dioxide and humus. The more starch added at the time of manufacture, the faster the rate of decomposition.

A British company has begun marketing the new biodegradable plastic and has sold licenses to the process in more than 40 countries. It's a start.

DOT happy hackers back

Well, I see by last Thursday's Telegraph that the happy hackers of the Illinois Department of Transportation are once again chainsawing their way along Route 2.

Are our esteemed "pathogenic petty political purveyors of paving" graduates of the Army Corps of Engineers? They certainly seem to exhibit the same simple-minded destructive philosophy which menaces our quality of life. The madhatters of DOT seem to be motivated by a desire to bury the world under a slab of concrete. There is a very remote possibility that they have read Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees." If so, they obviously fail to comprehend it.

Even if we ignore the esthetics of the situation, I fail to see any legitimate justification for the continued wholesale destruction of the trees which liberate oxygen into the atmosphere to compensate, in part, for the noxious, lung-searing pollution encouraged by our lovable madcaps from the DOT. To rip out erosion-resisting, soil-retaining roots so some drunk can drown himself in Rock River instead of possibly surviving an encounter with a leafy barrier makes little sense. I doubt that the people, who face greater ravages from spring floods as more of the watershed is destroyed by our happy-go-lucky hatchmen, will appreciate their efforts. Most assuredly, the endangered birds, squirrels, and other vanishing wildlife will not appreciate the destruction of their homes and probable death sentence for themselves.

Voice of the people

The assault against the trees along Route 2 was begun several years ago by the Illinois State Highway Department, Department of Transportation, or whatever alias or nom-de-guerre they happened to be using at the time. Among the victims were trees which were growing when Chief Blackhawk and his band roamed the area, when Lincoln was a store clerk, and when "Nachusa" Dixon was operating a trading post and ferry along the Rock. There was no Route 2 to Rockford then because there was no Rockford.

Some of the trees were on ditch banks so high, it would have given a mountain goat hypoxia. Anyone driving a car fast enough to climb the bank and hit one of those trees was already intent upon committing suicide.

The reasoning advanced for removal of the trees was specious then and it is just as false today. My protests failed to stop this stupid assassination of trees then, so I entertain few hopes that it will do any good now. Nevertheless, I hope that our citizens will wake up to their problem and take action. After all, it is your money (and mine) which is funding the slaughter.

Lacking that, I pray that the Druids were right.

Sincerely,
Ward W. Danekas

Defends IPACE candidates meeting

While the temptation was great to let pass yet another of your paper's tirades against the Dixon Teacher's Association, I can not sit back and allow to go unchallenged your indirect attack upon the integrity of the ten candidates for the school board.

To suggest, as you do in your editorial, that any of these fine people who attended the IPACE meeting would consent to "demands" made by the DTA to ensure the Association's endorsement is ludicrous at best.

Sincerely,
James K. Johnson
President-Elect DTA

Pet peeve: beer can littering

My pet peeve is seeing beer cans along the state and county roads.

If anyone wants to see beer cans country take a drive along any state or county road. Take a drive along Lost Nation Road.

Maybe if our judges would make the violators who are arrested for driving while intoxicated help pay for their fines by making them go along the roads and pick up these beer cans.

This may help others think before they throw cans along the roads. Thinking maybe they will be next out there picking up cans.

When you think of it, we the taxpayers pay to help our state and county roads clean.

Ann Werner

Things Dixon Talked About

10 YEARS AGO

A five-week course on self-defense for women will begin April 18 and run through May 16. A Marine Corps recruiter from Rockford will teach the course. It will be sponsored by the Dixon YMCA and will be open to women and girls from high school sophomores up. Elements of judo will be taught.

Gym doors will open at 7 p.m. for tonight's playoff game between Lindquist and Popeye. The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. The two teams wound up the regular season tied for first place in the YMCA League with 11-3 records. The game will be played at Dixon High's old gym.

25 YEARS AGO

The head of merchandising in Illinois for the Standard Oil Refining Company will speak on "Has Oil Kept Pace," at the weekly meeting of the Dixon Rotary Club Monday at the Loveland Community Building. A board of directors meeting will be held following the luncheon meeting Monday.

Eight Dixon Boy Scout patrols gained the right to compete in the Blackhawk district first aid meet in Rockford, April 20, by getting grade A ratings at the Sauk district meet last night in Sterling. Patrols from Dixon, Ashton, East Jordan, Sterling, Rock Falls and Morrison participated in last night's meet. The problems presented were treatment of shock, arterial bleeding, simple and compound fractures, head injuries, puncture wounds and transportation of injured.

50 YEARS AGO

All road in and out of Dixon were blocked this morning by huge drifts of snow which closed them to traffic. Autoists who braved the storm this morning in an attempt to break through the drifts were stalled along the highways and had sought shelter in farmhouses, abandoning their cars. Every one of the state roads were blocked, despite the fact that plows worked from yesterday afternoon early until late in the night in an effort to keep them open. The plows started out again this morning at daylight, fighting the deep drifts, trying to open the paved roads.

A delightful meeting of the Practical Club was held yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance, regardless of the inclemency of the weather. The paper of the afternoon was a most interesting resume of the article, "Keeping Time," by John Philip Sousa. It portrayed many unusual incidents in the life of this great music-master.

The Doctor Says: Blood flow follows gravity

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — Have you ever seen dilated veins in the head near the temple and above the eye (forehead) and below the eye (lower lid)? When I bend over this area swells. When I stand up gravity brings the blood back the heart. My doctor says this is abnormal and due to poor circulation, the same as enlarged veins in my legs. I would like your comment and advice on this problem.

DEAR READER — At the risk of being facetious I would suggest that you not bend over so much. Of course these veins will stand out if you bend over. Blood is a liquid and it tends to run downhill.

Why don't you do a little experiment? Hold your hand out at the level of your stomach and look at the veins fill up over the back of the hand, now hold your hand up just above the level of your eyes and watch the veins drain out. It is not abnormal for the veins to fill in the back of the hand when you hold the hand sufficiently lower than the level of the heart. It is not abnormal for the veins in your neck and head to stand out if you're going to bend over so that your head is lower than your heart.

Now you may have some local condition that concerns your doctor that I wouldn't be aware of without seeing your physical features but I can assure you that all the normal people I have seen who stood on their head or bent over far enough have their veins stand out through the influence of gravity.

DEAR DR. LAMB — You mention fortified milk frequently. Will you please tell me what you mean by fortified milk? I have been drinking powdered milk for many years. Is that okay?

DEAR READER — The dry powdered milk available in the supermarkets is mostly nonfat dry milk so I am certain that's what you are using. It will not contain any significant amounts of fat or cholesterol. It is suitable for low-fat, low-cholesterol diets.

Milk which has been fortified, whether you are speaking of low fat (2 per cent fat) or skim milk, means that nonfat milk solids have been added to it. The nonfat milk solids basically include the protein found in normal milk and calcium and other substances except fat. That's why fortified milk contains more calcium and more protein than ordinary whole milk does.

If you use low-fat milk you can estimate that about one-third of the calories in that milk comes from fat. When you need to restrict the fat in the diet that is certainly an improvement over whole milk since about half of its calories comes from fat. The best way to totally avoid fat and cholesterol from milk products though is to use fortified skim milk or the powdered milk which you are using.

Of course one should get protein from other sources in the diet too. It is not a good idea to depend solely on milk for protein. That's why your diet should also include a reasonable amount of meat, fish and poultry. These foods plus milk and milk products provide the highest quality of protein found in most diets. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 CASE G-445: Tom Baldaccini is the talented editor of Cal Dental Journal.

It reaches a majority of all the practicing dental surgeons in America and for 38 years I have written a monthly essay for it.

"Dr. Crane," Tom said, "we'd like your next essay to cover the medical and psychological methods to relieve tension."

"For a recent dental speaker said dentists die early, at an average age of only 52."

"And often have marital problems to complicate their home life."

Boudoir Cheesecake
 So I mentioned that a happy home life actually adds five to seven years to a man's lifespan, as per insurance statistics!

Alas, 30 per cent of American marriages end in divorce.

And breakup of homes hits almost 50 per cent in New York, as well as California!

Imagine the bickering that precedes such marital bankruptcies.

Plus the tension in the divorced parents if they must shuttle their kiddies back and forth between hostile mommy and daddy afterwards!

The BEST way to avoid this tragically high divorce rate is to learn how to stay happily married!

"Most divorces start in the bedroom," runs an axiom well known to Divorce Court Judges, Marriage Counselors and Clergymen.

Which was why I discussed the vital importance of "Boudoir Cheesecake" in safeguarding happy homes!

Tom Baldaccini cleverly headlined my essay with this caption on the front cover of his magazine:

"Boudoir Cheesecake, Erotic Calories, For A Top-Shape Marriage."

Above my essay on the inside page, he ran a picture of a box of "French Cheesecake" which was subheaded with this phrase, "An International Dessert."

On the opposite facing page he had a picture of a housewife leaning over her electric stove, apparently asleep.

And the caption underneath that photo said:

"You don't fall asleep at the cookstove..."

For in my essay I had mentioned the familiar alibi of wives who try to avoid their boudoir function by saying:

"Dr. Crane, I am so tired from looking after our children and keeping house, that I fall asleep as soon as I reach the bed!"

To which I had tartly mentioned that:

"Then you wives better reorganize your daily routine!"

"For you don't fall asleep at the cookstove when you try to entice his gastric appetite with fancy culinary concoctions!"

So I urged the wives of those dental surgeons to take an afternoon nap in order to make sure they'd remain awake and enthusiastic purveyors of "Boudoir Cheesecake," at least for the first 10 minutes after they get into bed.

And I mentioned that all smart wives should be able to feign ardor for at least 10 minutes, when they realize there are 10,000,000 manless women in America, eager to latch on to their dental husbands!

Success in life depends on our doing what we know is required of us, instead of just what we happen to feel like!

So send for my booklet "How To Prevent Impotence," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Melott, Indiana, 47958, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for one of his booklets).

Ginger and orange dress up limas

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Everyone is looking for something different — in food as well as in other facets of life. The food problem can be answered. Just dress up your vegetables. Frozen vegetables kept in ready supply in the freezer help turn a reluctant or casual cook into a wonder among friends. An example is baby limas in ginger orange sauce. The recipe takes a short time to prepare. If you plan to make it for a party or a very special guest, practice first . . . a good thing to do whenever trying out new recipes on family or friends. Serve the baby limas in a real party dress in scooped out orange shells, with ham, pork or turkey.

Frozen baby limas in ginger orange sauce pick up menu.

- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen baby lima beans
- 1/2 cup toasted canned onion rings
- Bacon bits (optional)

Drain orange sections or mandarin oranges, reserving liquid. Add enough orange juice to drained liquid to measure 1 cup. Combine 2 tablespoons of the liquid with cornstarch, sugar and ginger. Mix until well blended. Combine with remaining orange liquid in a saucepan. Cook over medium high heat until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add limas and simmer for 8 minutes or until tender. Add orange sections. Stir in toasted onion rings. Serve garnished with bacon bits if desired. For a party, serve in scooped out orange shells. Goes well with baked ham, roast turkey or pork. Makes 4 servings. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Deathbed apologies too late

Dear Ann Landers: I'm the wife who sat in the front row of the church when they buried the man I was married to for 38 years. His mistress of 11 years described how she felt — "sitting in the back like a stranger," although she said, "I know I was first in his heart."

My husband was old enough to be her father. He had grandchildren. At no time during his terrible illness did he call her name. He kept telling me how ashamed and sorry he was that he had treated me so shabbily. But it was too late. All the love and respect I had for him had been killed many years before.

He was a miserable father and a cruel and selfish husband. I couldn't begin to count the women in his life. The mistress who wrote was the one he "kept," but while he was seeing her he had two others.

I'm sorry I didn't write to you 20 years ago. You might have changed my life. Bless you, Ann, for the good you do. — Longtime Friend

Dear Friend: Thank you for sharing your life's story. I hope you will find peace and happiness in your remaining years.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a problem with my mother I can't handle. She lives in another state and comes to visit quite often. I love her very much, but some of her peculiarities get on my nerves. For example:

After spending three or four days with us, she'll say, "I'd better go home. I don't want to be in the way." (Our children sleep on cots when Grandma is here but they don't mind doing it and have told her so.)

At breakfast, if I ask her if she wants eggs, she'll say, "I can get along without them." When I ask if she'd like some jelly on her toast, she says, "I can eat it this way." She never asks for cream for her coffee until I notice she isn't using any. When I offer it, she says, "I can do without it."

On her last trip, I could see she was having trouble with her back. When I asked if she wanted me to make an appointment with the doctor, she said, "It would take too much gas."

What can I do with this woman? I really am stumped for a solution. — A Loving Daughter

Dear Daughter: The answer is — nothing. You aren't going to change your mother. So — fix her some eggs, give her jelly for her toast, cream for her coffee, and make a doctor's appointment if you think she is ill.

Dear Ann Landers: You owe an awful lot of people an apology. In a recent column you referred to Herpes Simplex II as a venereal disease. It is actually a virus that invades the blood stream and can be transmitted in many ways other than by sexual intercourse. Kissing, for example.

I have not had any sex life for over four years and I caught Herpes Simplex II just a few months ago after I drank out of a tainted cup. It looks exactly like a cold sore on my upper lip because that is what it is. Nothing more.

Thank you for setting the record straight. — Tampa

Dear Tam: What I said was, "Herpes Simplex II is rapidly becoming a venereal disease" — and that's what I meant. Because of an increase in sexual promiscuity as well as oral sex, this once "old-fashioned" cold sore has begun to appear on genitals, and THAT doesn't come from drinking out of a tainted cup, my friend. Opening lead — Q ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The all-time giant of contract was Ely Culbertson. Although he was better at publicity than at bridge, he was one of the great innovators of bidding methods.

He was the first man to suggest that four notrump should be used to ask for aces. He invented the idea of the asking bid and of the grand-slam force. He never liked to open a normal notrump bid and, while the Culbertson system always included some notrump opening, when Ely opened one on his own it was apt to be almost anything except a normal notrump.

Today's hand shows one of his triumphs. He elected to open one notrump with his five high-card points and seven-card diamond suit.

His partner raised him to three. Dummy's ace of spades won the first trick. Ely promptly led the queen of diamonds from dummy. East put on his king — it wouldn't have done him any good to play low — and Ely rattled off his nine tricks. A mighty good result since East and West had a cinch game in spades.

Local woman's recipe featured in cookbook

Mrs. Bea John of Dixon, has a recipe for Cheese Meringue Potatoes featured in "Vegetable Bounty," a new cookbook produced by the staff of Farm Wife News magazine. "Vegetable Bounty" contains over 100 vegetable recipes from rural women across the country. Recipes in her book are a selection of the best entered in the magazine's regular recipe contest, "Rural Recipe Round-up."

The cookbook is divided into convenient sections with recipes for 24 different kinds of vegetables — from asparagus to zucchini. Helpful tips on storing, serving and preparing vegetables are also included.

CHEESE MERINGUE POTATOES
6 cups warm potatoes, mashed or riced
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 cup butter
4 egg yolks, well-beaten

2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1-3rd cup cream
1 cup grated cheese (American)
Measure potatoes. Return to saucepan. Brown onion in butter. Combine with egg yolks, salt, celery salt, and cream. Add to potatoes. Beat until light and fluffy, using more cream if needed. Fold in grated cheese. Spread evenly in a greased, eight inch pan. (Square). Top with Cheese Meringue and bake as directed.

CHEESE MERINGUE
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup grated American Cheese
Beat egg whites with salt, cream of tartar, and paprika, until stiff. Fold in cheese. Place on top of potatoes. Bake 325 degrees for 25 minutes. Makes about six servings.

WALNUT — The last annual Blackhawk Conference Band Festivals which Walnut High School students will participate in were held recently at Bradford and at Princeville high schools.

The Walnut High School Band participated in the Northern Division Festival at Bradford with the Bradford, Manlius, Western, and Wethersfield High School bands. Under the direction of a guest conductor, Loren Palmer, of Illinois Valley Community College, this mass band practiced half of the day and performed that evening. They played "Washington Post March," Sousa, "Festival," Benciscutto; "Spirit of '76," Grundeman; and "Jesus Christ Superstar," arranged by O'Brien.

An honor band composed of 88 students from all ten Blackhawk schools, performed at both Festivals, under the director of their guest conductor, Donald Lewellen, of Illinois Central College. They played "George Washington Bicentennial March," Sousa; "Portrait of the Land," Quinn; "Suite for Winds and Percussion," Lewellen; "Suite of Old American Dances," Bennett; and "A Tribute to Glenn Miller," Gass.

The nine students who represented Walnut in the honor band were seniors David Smith, flute; Chuck Bell, bass clarinet; Randy Gonigam, cornet; Dick Ganschow, baritone; Mont Cessna and Roger Johnson, percussion; juniors Kendra Nelson and Corine Perino, clarinets; and sophomore Laura Blohm, oboe. These students auditioned for chair positions and they practiced a day and a half with the guest director in preparation for their part of the Festival concerts.

Next year Walnut will be participating in the new Indian Valley Conference Festival.

Bicentennial get-together

COMPTON — The Compton Bicentennial committee under the direction of their chairman, Mrs. Donald (Pat) Swope, is planning on having their first Bicentennial get-together this year on Friday. This will be a "Bicentennial review of the 175 Compton Area Centennial." Everyone is welcome to come and join the fun for an evening of food and entertainment. It will begin with a 6:30 p.m., scrambled supper at the Sportsmen's Hall. Those planning on attending are to bring their own table service, a dish to pass, and a meat dish. The drinks will be furnished. Following the meal, there will be a showing of films and slides that were taken during the 175 Compton Centennial by the area residents.

Family night in Shabbona

SHABBONA — The Bicentennial theme has been chosen for the annual Family Fun Night to be held at the Shabbona High School, Saturday. The event, sponsored by the District No. 425 Band and Choral Parents Association, features a variety of activities including square dancing, ball room dancing, game room, movies, and cake walk. Refreshments will also be available throughout the evening. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. Co-chairmen are Mrs. John Michalowski and Mrs. Paul Olson. Mr. Lowell May and Mrs. Carol Bennett are band and choral directors.

Cub paper drive

STEWART — Steward Cub Scout Pack 64 will have a paper drive Saturday. Persons are asked to have papers bundled and tied and on the curb by 9 a.m. Rural people should bring their papers to the Macklin garage in Stewart.

Pine Creek club to meet Thursday

OREGON — The Pine Creek Woman's Club will meet Thursday at 1:30 p.m., with Mrs. Ken Allen. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. William Worley and Mrs. Eva Gurgard.

The roll call response will be the name of each member's favorite flower. Mrs. C. C. Stengel will provide the program.

Forgottonia is forgotten once more

By WILLIAM PRATER
Associated Press Writer
FANDON, Ill. (AP) — The make-believe State of Forgottonia, which whimsically declared its intention to secede from the rest of Illinois three years ago, has been, uh, forgotten.

The billboards in Western Illinois that once proclaimed: "You Have Entered Forgottonia—Have Your Visas Ready," now advertise improved hog feed and Army recruiters.

Forgottonia was formed in response to feelings that a 16-county region stretching along the Mississippi River from Rock Island south to St. Louis had been ignored and neglected by the state government and residents of other parts of the state.

Its creation, to be sure, did spark a flurry of highway improvements in the area that had been postponed year after year.

Western Illinois University has been getting its share of state aid to education recently, and the area just received funding for a public television network.

But now even the self-proclaimed governor of Forgottonia, former WIU student Neal Gamm, has moved "out of state."

Gamm, helped to put Forgottonia into the national limelight by touring the state for some six months to bring the region's complaints to public attention. He wore a red vest and a black frock coat reminiscent of 19th century U.S. congressmen.

As governor of Forgottonia, Gamm picked as his capital the tiny farm community of Fandon, which was not listed on the state road map. He made the albatross Forgottonia's official state bird.

Now Gamm is working as a waiter in Springfield to help finance a master's degree at Sangamon State University there. He says he soon may be working for the state government he once claimed forgot Forgottonia.

"I don't really think I'll be going back to Forgottonia. I've got roots here now," he said in an interview.

"It's kind of funny...not too long ago, somehow the subject of Forgottonia came up and I said, 'Hey, that was me, I was the Governor.' And they really didn't believe me," said Gamm.

The group that conceived of the mythical state, mostly members of the Macomb Chamber of Commerce and students at WIU, have left or have found other interests, Gamm said.

Nevertheless, Gamm said, the stunt helped gain for the region some much-needed attention from lawmakers.

"They've done a lot of work on roads—Illinois 136 and 67—and that wasn't supposed to be done for quite a while, before."

And, as he noted in October 1973, the mock state's heyday, the benefits were worth "making an ass of myself in this red vest and tails."

Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea
On September 23, 1779, a Revolutionary War naval commander was leading a rag-tag squadron of ships through the North Sea, when he encountered the Baltic merchant fleet headed by the British frigate "Serapis." He commanded an old French vessel that he had renamed the "Bonhomme Richard" — or "Poor Richard" — after Benjamin Franklin's pen name. The "Bonhomme Richard" engaged the "Serapis," shown on the left, in battle. The two ships fought yardarm to yardarm for 3-1/2 hours. Though the Americans won the battle, the crew had to transfer to the Serapis and the Bonhomme Richard sank 2 days later as a result of the battering it received. A team of underwater archaeologists hopes to locate and retrieve this lost ship.

Preliminary okay to scholarship fund boost

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — College students receiving state scholarship aid wouldn't have to dip into their rent money to pay tuition this spring under a bill which has won first-round legislative approval, the head of a student group says.

Legislation to add $6.25 million or full-time scholarships this year was approved on a 20 to 0 vote Tuesday by a House appropriations committee. It still must be passed by the full House and the Senate.

Mary Brady, executive director of the Association of Illinois Student Governments, told the committee if the appropriation were enacted, students on state scholarships would have to sacrifice "a month's food bill or half a month's rent" to pay the difference between their grants and the cost of tuition and fees. For a full-time student she said the difference would be about $36.

Gov. Daniel Walker has said he favors an additional appropriation for scholarships this year.

The committee rejected 15 to 5 an amendment proposed by Rep. Joseph Lundy, D-Evanston, to provide an additional $4.5 million for summer school grants.

Annulment costs $50,000 and 40 court appearances

CHICAGO (AP) — The easiest way to dissolve a marriage in Illinois is to pay several hundred dollars and make a quick appearance in divorce court.

For north suburban real estate broker James Wolfe, however, it has cost some $50,000 in legal fees and 40 appearances before 12 different judges in divorce, criminal, law and chancery courts. Even with the annulment he was granted Monday, Wolfe said Tuesday he knows he will have to go back to court again.

The legal tangle began 27 months ago when Wolfe, 46, was sued for divorce on grounds of mental cruelty by his wife, Judith, 36.

A few months after Mrs. Wolfe filed for the divorce, however, Wolfe, who is a Roman Catholic, learned that his wife was not the widow she had claimed to be when he married her in 1965.

Wolfe said that before their marriage his wife had shown him a death certificate for her former husband, Thomas Haffner, who she said had been killed in an automobile accident in Phoenix, Ariz. Haffner, however, turned out to be very much alive in Denver, and even came to Chicago to prove he had been divorced from Mrs. Wolfe.

Wolfe then filed for an annulment, saying he would not have married his wife if he had known she had been divorced. He also notified a state's attorney, who filed fraud charges against Mrs. Wolfe because of the bogus death certificate. The fraud case was finally dropped, though, because the certificate had not been issued in Illinois.

By then, having appeared a number of times in divorce and criminal court, Wolfe assumed that a few more divorce court appearances would do the trick. He was wrong. A dispute over the property settlement quickly developed, forcing a case in chancery court.

Then, to further complicate matters, Wolfe's first attorney in the case, Thomas Hillery, filed suit against him for $23,000 in unpaid legal fees. Wolfe maintained that he already had paid Hillery $5,000 and received nothing for his money but 18 fruitless divorce court appearances. When Wolfe said he wouldn't pay any more, the case went to law court.

Wolfe now has his annulment, but he still has the chancery court and law court cases on his hands — and there's still more to come. Wolfe wants custody of his 9-year-old son, John, and that will bring on still another legal battle.

$40,945 budgeted for roads

AMBOY — Members of the Amboy Township Board adopted a budget for the 1976-77 fiscal year for the road and bridge department at a special public hearing held at the city hall Tuesday night.

The proposed budget, which had been on display for public inspection for the past 30-days, was amended to reflect a decrease in anticipated receipts for the coming year. Appropriated for expenditures from the general road and bridge fund was $23,393 and from the permanent road fund (a special tax which will be received for the first time this year) $17,552, for total appropriation of $40,945. This is about $7,000 less than the original proposal.

Items on the general township fund budget and the general assistance budget were considered but no action was taken. These items will be acted upon at the Annual Town Meeting to be held at 7 p.m., April 13, in the city hall.

The next monthly business session of the board is at 7:30 p.m., April 7, in the city hall.

'Donner Party' presented by Sauk Valley players

A historically dramatic play, "The Donner Party," will be presented by the Sauk Valley College Players in the Little Theatre at the college beginning Thursday and ending Sunday.

"The Donner Party" was a wagon train of emigrants who set off across the plains in 1846 from Springfield.

Taking a new cut-off route south of the Great Salt Lake, and crossing the parching flats of the salt desert, they were so delayed they became blocked by early snows in the Sierra Nevada and were stranded.

They camped at what is now called Donner Lake, and during the winter about half of their number died of starvation. Res-

Levitt defends overall operations at Singer Center

CHICAGO (AP) — State Mental Health Director Dr. Leroy P. Levitt has defended overall operations at the Singer Mental Health Center in Rockford and has denied that patients there were subjected to systematic homosexual abuse.

Levitt issued a report on the Singer center Tuesday at a meeting of the Illinois Commission on Mental Health. The report dealt with 1975 incidents in which it was alleged that an employee of the state facility had homosexual relations with minors who were being treated there.

The employee, Richard Vander Linden, resigned from the center Dec. 1 and subsequently was charged by local authorities with two counts of taking indecent liberties with a minor.

Levitt said two minors linked to alleged homosexual practices by Vander Linden last year denied taking part. Levitt said the two were Vander Linden's 17-year-old adopted son and a Singer patient who was making a court-approved 60-day stay in Vander Linden's home as a foster child.

"Barring development of other evidence," Levitt said, "it was an isolated instance involving one ex-employee."

Levitt said he felt that news coverage of the incident was so sensationalized "it dissuaded many parents from taking their children to the outstanding mental-health program at the center."

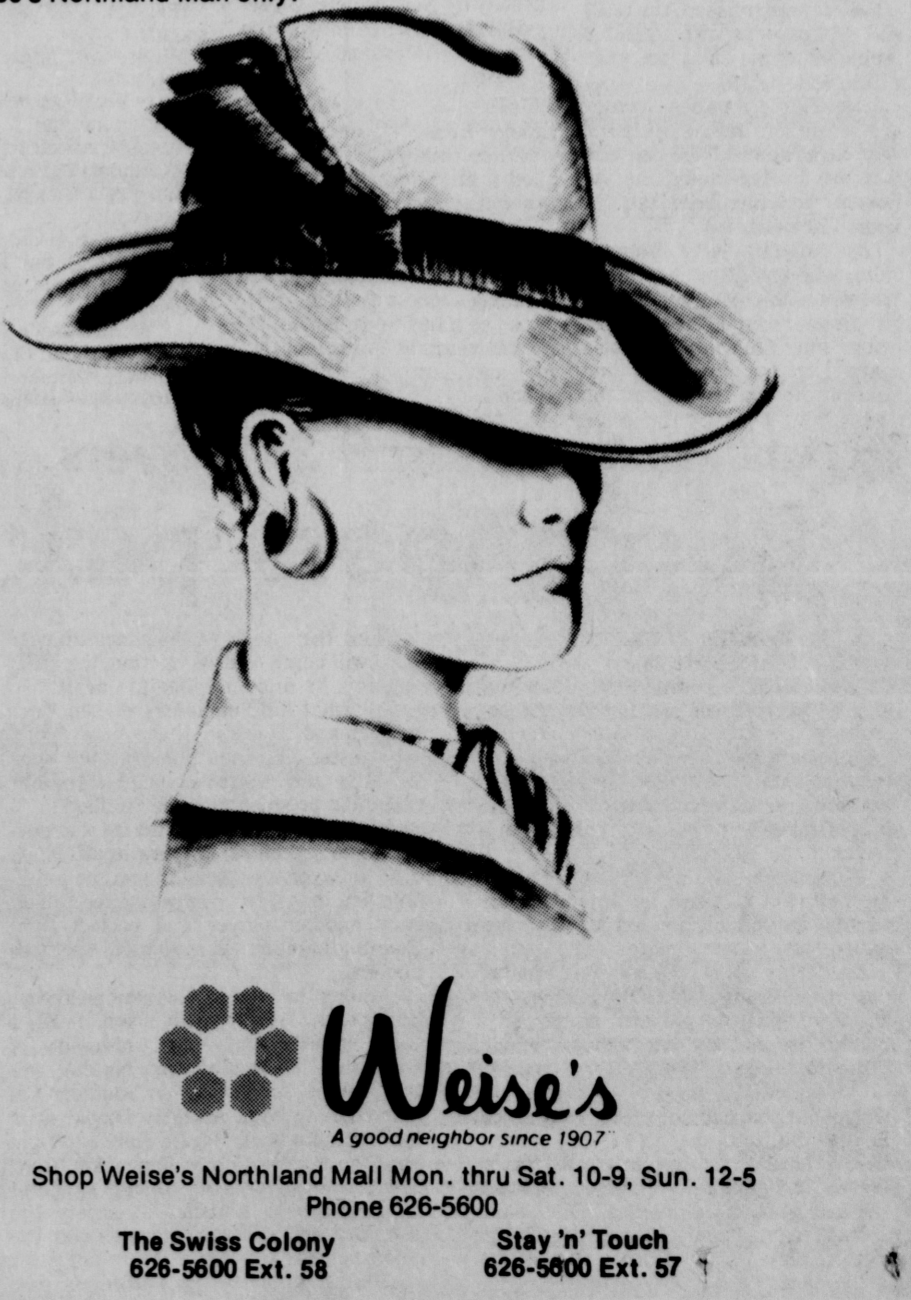

Levitt did, however, chide the Singer staff for an "error of judgement" in their handling of the situation. Levitt said a number of staff members had noticed instability in Vander Linden's behavior well before the allegations were made, but did not inform supervisors.

He said that when allegations sufficient to cause Vander Linden's firing or suspension were finally made, administrators passed them on to the Rockford police rather than acting internally.

Webb and Wooten are double winners Dukes win triangular

By MIKE CUNIFF
Telegraph Sports Editor
STERLING — Jeff Webb and Gordie Wooten were both double winners at the Westwood Complex, here, Tuesday to lead the Dixon Dukes varsity track team to a triangular victory over the Newman Comets and Polo Marcos.

Dixon ended with nine first places out of the 15 in competition and racked up 80 points. Newman grabbed second with 45 markers while Polo was third with 34 points despite the fact the Marcos had four individual winners to only a pair for the Comets.

Webb went 197" to capture the long jump and then came back to take the 70-yard low hurdles in :08.8. Gary Magnafici was second to Webb in the long jump. Wooten took the high jump with a 5'6" effort and the triple jump in 40'1½". Webb was second in the triple while Mike LeBlanc grabbed third in the high jump.

Ed Love cruised to an easy victory in the two-mile for the Dukes. Love took over the lead on the fifth lap of the 16-lap event (Westwood has a 220-yard track) and won the event in 10:13.4. Louie Apple was second and Newman's Mike Kapp (the early leader) third.

Doug Stouffer added a win in the 880-yard dash over Franco Alvarez of the Comets. Stouffer's winning effort was 2:07.2. Mark Swegle was third for the Dukes. Duane Cowley was first with a 4:47.3 clocking in the mile with Jim Magnafici second and Nick Cruz of Newman third.

Mike McDonald took the 220-yard dash in :25.1 followed by Dixon's Pat Venier, Polo's Joe Williams and Jim Ditsch of Newman. The Dukes' foursome of Brian Cox, Bill Commons, Stouffer and Greg Weigle captured the mile relay in 3:45 with Polo next and Newman third.

Scott Bartelt won the 60-yard dash for the Marcos in :06.8 nipping Chis Mullery of Dixon at the tape. Newman's Jeff Kelly of the Comets was third and Polo's Jeff Grobe fourth. Scott Smith grabbed the 440-yard dash for the Marcos in :54.1, holding off Weigle down the stretch.

Jerry Love added another first with a 10'6" effort in the pole vault for Polo. The Marcos' 880-yard relay squad of Grobe, Williams, Perry Luther and Bartelt took its event in 1:41.9 with Newman second and Dixon disqualified.

The only individual winners for Newman were Kelly with a toss of 45'10½" in the shot and Steve George with a :09.4 clocking in the 70-yard high hurdles. Tom Warkins added points for the Comets with a second in the 70 highs with Jim Mazrimas and Bill Commons of Dixon next in line.

Dixon, now 2-0 for the season, will now host Ottawa Thursday, weather permitting, at A.C. Bowers Field.

SCOTT SMITH of Polo has a step on Dixon's Greg Weigle to win the 440-yard dash in a triangular track meet at the Westwood Complex in Sterling Tuesday. Dixon won the triangular with 80 points to 45 for Newman and 34 for Polo. (Telegraph Photo)

Shepard has a goal

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer
If the New York Mets can't come to terms with 1975 Cy Young Award winner Tom Seaver, perhaps they can trade him to Cincinnati for 1976 Cy Young winner Gary Nolan.

What, you didn't know Nolan had won the '76 Young Award? Oh, it won't be announced officially until after the season; but pitching coach Larry Shepard of the Reds has set that as a goal for Nolan.

"Last year, I wanted Nolan to be Comeback Pitcher of the Year," Shepard said. But Seaver won that along with the Cy Young. "In my book he was. This year, my goal for him is the Cy Young Award."

Nolan's outing Tuesday didn't disappoint Shepard. The 28-year-old right-hander hurled three scoreless innings, allowing two hits and fanning three, as the Reds got home runs from Ken Griffey, Ed Armbrister and George Foster and trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 7-1.

Nolan, who missed the 1973 and 1974 seasons with shoulder problems, came back last year with a 15-9 record.

Luis Tiant, another former arm case who made it all the way back, allowed one run and four hits in five innings as the Boston Red Sox beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3.

Los Angeles lefty Tommy John, who hasn't pitched since 1974 when he ripped tendons in his elbow, wasn't discouraged when the Baltimore Orioles raked him for four runs and nine hits in six innings of the Dodgers' 13-8 victory.

"I feel fine," he said. "I'm pleased and confident. I threw effortlessly."

Elsewhere along the exhibition trail, Jerry Reuss fired six shutout innings as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Detroit Tigers 3-1. Seaver failed to come to contract terms and then was touched for three runs in five innings as the winless Mets bowed to the New York Yankees 6-4 in 10 innings.

Northern hires McDougal

DEKALB, Ill. (AP) — The coach who led Aurora West High School to the Illinois Class AA basketball finals just 10 days ago has been hired as the new basketball coach at Northern Illinois University.

John McDougal was announced as the new coach Tuesday by NIU Athletic Director Robert J. Brigham with the approval of President Richard J. Nelson.

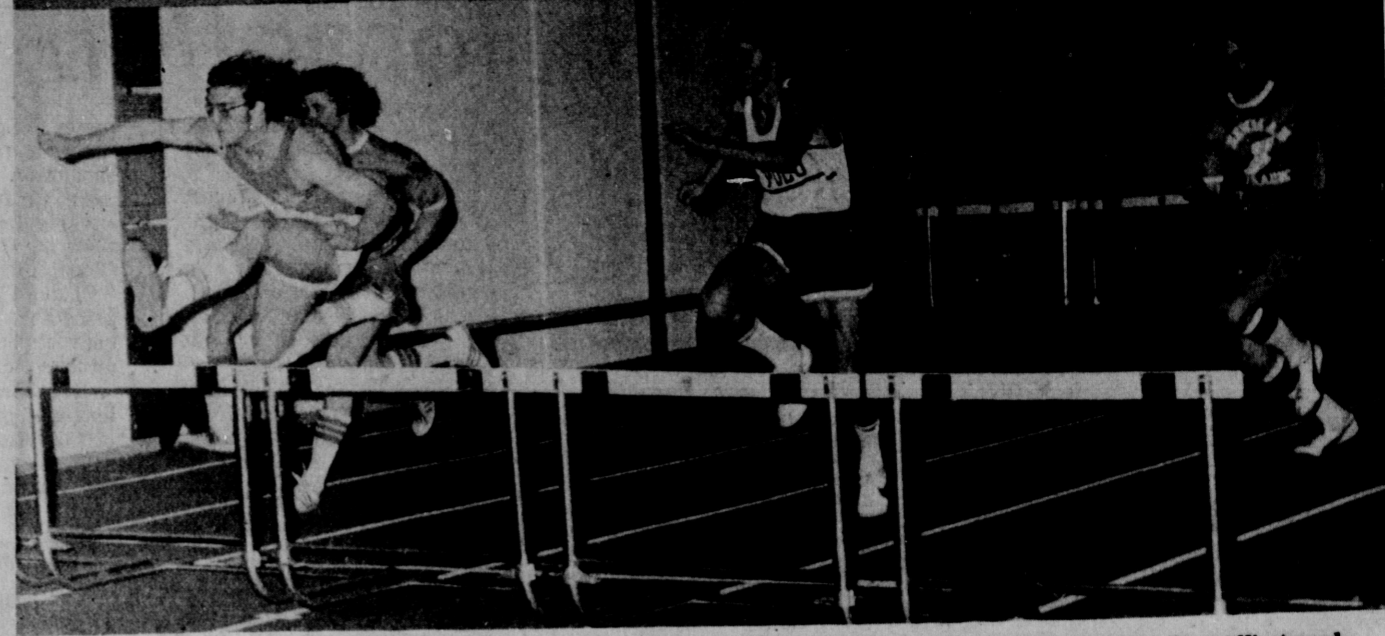

McDougal, 52, succeeds Emory Luck, whose contract was not renewed. Luck compiled a 21-53 record during his three-year tenure at NIU.

The job will be McDougal's baptism in the collegiate coaching ranks. He has achieved outstanding success in Illinois prep ranks as a head coach over the past 26 years at Palestine, Carmi and Aurora West high schools.

Tennis results

STERLING — The Sauk Valley Redmen tennis team won three of four singles matches at the Westwood Complex, here, Tuesday to defeat Waubesa 4-2 in a junior college meet.

Randy Paisley beat Jay Jordan 10-1 at the number-one singles for the Redmen, while number-three Tim Huyett blanked Steve Furjak 10-0 and number-four Tom Cushman defeated Bruce Doneham 10-4. Brad Hartje had to default to Kevin Coine at number two.

Paisley and Huyett teamed up to blank Jordan and Matt Reva 10-0 in doubles, while Hartje and Cushman defaulted to Coine and Mark Ganther.

"We're a young and inexperienced club and we met another young and inexperienced club," mentioned Sauk Valley Coach Frank Palumbo. "We were just better this day. Huyett and Cushman played extremely well." The Redmen, now 1-0-1 for the year, will travel to Malta to face Kishwaukee in the Arrowhead Conference opener Thursday.

Braves nip Celtics

By The Associated Press
Let's meet the starting line-up for the Boston Celtics: At the forwards, John Havlicek and Steve Kuberski; at center, Dave Cowens; at the guards, Charlie Scott and Jo Jo White.

And now let's meet the finishing line-up for the Boston Celtics: At the forwards, Kuberski and Glenn McDonald; at center, Jim Ard; at the guards, Kevin Stacom and Jerome Anderson.

Neither contingent was what you expect the Boston Celtics to be as the Buffalo Braves rode the hot hand of Bob McAdoo to a 93-83 victory and moved into sole possession of second place in the National Basketball Association's Atlantic Division.

In other action, the Phoenix Suns flattened the New York Knicks 113-97, the Cleveland Cavaliers downed the Houston Rockets 95-86, the Milwaukee Bucks shaded Atlanta 130-126 in overtime after the Hawks fired Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons, the Portland Trail Blazers nipped the Kansas City Kings 114-113 and the Golden State Warriors topped the Chicago Bulls 94-84.

In the only American Basketball Association game, the Denver Nuggets trounced the Spirits of St. Louis 133-112.

McAdoo hit his first four shots en route to a 29-point performance and got Buffalo off to a flying start against Boston. He finished with 13-for-24 shooting after connecting on five of six shots and scoring 12 points in the opening period, pacing Buffalo to a 25-16 lead. It was 49-40 at halftime and the Celtics, who have clinched the Atlantic Division crown, played most of the second half with their top five players — Havlicek, Cowens, Scott, White and Paul Silas — on the bench.

Stacom was high for the Celtics with 12 points, Scott had 11 and Silas 10, the only Boston players in double figures. Havlicek and Silas didn't play at all in the final period.

Suns 113, Knicks 97
Paul Westphal scored 29 points to lead surging Phoenix to its seventh consecutive victory while mathematically eliminating the Knicks from the playoffs for the first time since 1966. By winning, Phoenix gained sole possession of second place in the Pacific Division.

Cavaliers 95, Rockets 86
Campy Russell scored seven points to keep Cleveland alive in a slow-moving fourth quarter. The Cavaliers trail Washington by one game in the Central Division and need one more victory — or a loss by the Rockets — make the playoffs for the first time in their history.

Bucks 130, Hawks 126
Elmore Smith scored four of his 31 points in overtime as the Bucks beat Atlanta in Gene Tormohlen's first game as the Hawks' interim coach. Cotton Fitzsimmons was fired shortly before the game.

Trail Blazers 114, Kings 113
Sidney Wicks scored the last five of his game-high 34 points in the final two minutes to give Portland a sweep of the five-game series between the two teams, the first in their six-year history.

Warriors 94, Bulls 84
Rick Barry and Phil Smith led a fourth-quarter charge that enabled the Warriors to win their 55th game of the year.

Expansion teams draft 39 players

Buccaneers pick Davis

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Tampa Bay's John McKay called it "just another day of recruiting." Seattle's Jack Patera called it "a numbers game." But the coaches of the National Football League's two expansion franchises finally have some players to put into their bright new uniforms.

Now it's a matter of seeing if these guys can get together, become teams instead of individuals and maybe win a few games.

As McKay put it: "It was just another day of recruiting. . . . We'll go home now, sit down, put the players' names on a blackboard and say, 'Here they are, now what do we do?'"

"We picked a good basic roster and we got our share of good football players. Seattle did, too.

Or, as Patera, referring to the 26 teams that gave up the players to stock the Buccaneers and his Seahawks, said: "These teams have their own reasons for putting players up. At times you get into a numbers game."

What they have is 39 names apiece. More will come next week when the NFL conducts its annual collegiate draft.

But what kind of names do the Buccaneers and Seahawks have now? They have tested veterans but are they over the hill? and unproven youngsters but will their promise ever be fulfilled?

Each of the 26 veteran teams was permitted to protect 32 players in all. Each time a player was picked from the available list, that team was permitted to pull back another player and protect him. Eventually, each old club gave up three players.

Among the "name" players picked by Tampa Bay were McKay's son, J. K., a wide receiver with the University of Southern California when his dad was the Trojans' coach; former Southern Cal star running back Anthony Davis; Oakland running back Harold Hart and tight end Bob Moore, Miami linebacker Doug Swift who says he's retiring to enter medical school, Kansas City safety Jim Kearney and Buffalo defensive end Pat Toomay.

Seattle gobbled up Baltimore linebacker Mike Curits and running back Bill Olds, Miami tackle Norm Evans, Los Angeles linebacker Ken Geddes and cornerback Eddie McMillan, Pittsburgh defensive back Dave Brown and Detroit tight end John McMakin. The Seahawks also picked the only two quarterbacks — New England's Neil Graft and St. Louis, Gary Keithley.

Both Davis and the younger McKay chose the World Football League over the NFL a year ago, each signing with the Southern California Sun before the Sun — and the entire WFL — sank slowly into bankruptcy.

Davis was the second-round selection by the New York Jets, McKay a 16th-round pick by the Cleveland Browns. When the WFL went under, both went north — Davis to the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League, McKay to a coaching position at Oregon State University.

Davis is under contract to the Argos, but that doesn't seem to bother the elder McKay just yet. "He's gone to Canada," he said, "but a lot of people who have gone there have returned."

Air fares are increasing

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The price you pay to fly first class will increase between 4 per cent and 7.3 per cent on all domestic flights on April 1, but travelers who have more time than money still can find some airline bargains.

In addition to the first class rate increases, coach class fares may rise by 3 per cent on some routes, mostly in the South and Midwest.

But airlines still are offering a variety of discounts that can cut anywhere from 20 per cent — for late night flights — to 30 and 35 per cent off the cost of a coach seat ticket. To qualify for larger discounts, passengers must abide by certain restrictions, such as making reservations 14 days in advance.

The increase in first class fares is the second of three hikes ordered by the Civil Aeronautics Board two years ago after it decided the fares were not high enough to cover the actual costs of providing service. The third increase will go into effect next year.

The coach fare increase on some routes is expected to occur as airlines that did not raise fares earlier this year seek to catch up with airlines that did.

Most airlines raised fares 1 per cent on Feb. 1 and 2 per cent on March 1. But some financially stronger lines, including National, Delta and Northwest, did not ask the board for those increases, saying they would seek instead to raise fares by 3 per cent on April 1.

Coach fare hikes planned by those airlines must be approved by the CAB before it can be implemented. But no CAB opposition is expected since the board said earlier this year the hikes were justified.

The increases may be a fore-runner of others. Eastern, United and Trans World Airlines say they will ask for another 2 per cent hike in coach and first class fares effective May 1.

The CAB-mandated fare hikes for first class travel are related to the distance flown and to the current coach fare with the largest increases coming on longer trips.

For example, the first class one-way fare from Washington, D.C., to Cleveland — a distance of 304 miles — will rise 4.8 per cent, from $59 to $62. Washington to Chicago one-way first class fares will rise from $91 to $97, or about 6 per cent, and Washington-Dallas one-way first class fares will rise from $147 to $158, or about 7 per cent.

First class fares across country on the Washington-San Francisco route will rise from $254 to $274, or about 7.3 per cent.

Most carriers expect the new hike to accelerate the recent decline in first class travel. But most say they doubt the first class increase will affect overall air travel, currently above projections because of discount fares and the generally improving economy.

Domestic airline traffic, measured in the number of total miles each passenger is flown, was about 12 per cent above last year's showing in January and 18 per cent higher in February than in February 1975, according to the Air Transport Association. This increase is welcome news for the airlines since the industry ended 1975 far in the red. The 10 trunk airlines and Pan American World Airways, which has only international routes, lost $104 million in 1975.

The upswing in air travel is attributed partly to the discount fares the airlines introduced in April 1975 in an effort to pull out of an economic tailspin. Those discounts can mean huge savings.

For example, the popular 30 per cent daylight excursion discount can cut $63 off the regular $210 cost of a round-trip coach flight from Washington to Dallas. Passengers willing to take a late night flight offered by many airlines can cut another 5 per cent off the price.

Airline advertising also has become more pointed in recent months.

TWA currently is running an advertising campaign naming competitors and uses CAB on-time figures in an effort to persuade customers TWA can get them to their destination on time more often than other carriers. Pan Am recently began advertising that stresses the fact that Pan Am is the only U.S. airline flying around the world.

The increase in first class fares may result in a further decline in the number of first class air passengers. That decline began several years ago and the reasons vary from cost-cutting by companies whose executives once went first class to CAB rate-making standards.

For example, American Airlines says first class revenue was 18 per cent of its total income in 1970 but only 12 per cent in 1975.

Most carriers began remodeling more than a year ago to cut the number of first class seats and increase the number of coach seats on most planes. Most of that remodeling will be finished by midsummer.

Precise figures are not available on the extent of the remodeling, but TWA said its current program would remove 296 first class seats and add 748 coach seats. United Airlines gave no figure on how many first class seats were being removed but said it was adding 2,500 coach seats. American said it was adding 1,575 coach seats.

Several carriers indicated reasons for reducing first class seats were related directly to the decline in demand. But George James, chief economist for the Air Transport Association, says he believes the CAB's rate-making procedures also have played a part.

"It's largely a rate-making reason," he said. When considering if a proposed rate hike is economically justified, the CAB already is looking at the airlines "as if we had less first class seating and higher density seating in coach," he said.

What the board does, James said, is to decide itself how many seats should be in each aircraft for the most efficient operation. This optimum seat number, rather than the actual number of seats, is then used by the board as a factor in the complicated formula it uses to decide if a proposed rate hike is really needed.

That means, he said, carriers offering fewer coach seats than the CAB says they should find it harder to show a need for a fare hike.

Energy crisis seen as hope of major cities

CHICAGO (AP) — Boston Mayor Kevin White says that despite political and sociological doomsayers, the energy shortage has made the major cities America's greatest hope.

"Without the cities we have no future," White said Monday. "Urban sprawl is dead. The assassin was energy, or the lack of it."

White told a Bright New Cities luncheon-lecture that he sees the lower transportation costs and lower per capita energy consumption in the cities as leading to a reevaluation of urban life and a halt in the flight to the suburbs.

He added, though, that political leaders who preach the insolvency of basic social and economic problems in the cities are blighting the future of all major cities in the nation.

White blasted politicians who "are waging an effective campaign to convince us that government can do little to solve our most pressing problems."

When asked who he was referring to, White replied, "Primarily the Republican administration in Washington."

White said some politicians contend that "our social and economic problems are intractable...that it isn't worth trying...that what we have is the best we can hope for."

"I don't have to tell you that this thesis, if accepted, can deal a crippling blow to the hopes and aspirations of Boston, Chicago, San Francisco...and cities all across the country," he said.

White said that solutions can and must be found. He noted that almost a million new jobs have opened up in the nation's 30 largest cities during the 1970s. He also said that two of the most feared afflictions of the cities — crime and drug addiction — actually are increasing at a more rapid rate in suburban areas.

While admitting that the cities "contain a disproportionate share of every human deprivation," White attacked the "great urban myth" that "cities are caught in a hopeless cycle of social pathology" as being, fundamentally, nothing more than racism.

White arrived at the meeting sponsored by the University of Chicago and the Graham Foundation fresh from a chat with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley at City Hall.

White refused to disclose the specifics of his talk with Daley, but he said they discussed presidential politics and agreed that candidates are too often expected by voters to be "heroic" and not mere human beings.

White also said former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson and U.S. Rep. Morris K. Udall
